The museum features 12 galleries on the civil war along with hands on and interactive exhibits. The Gettysburg Cyclorama is a colossal oil painting in the round depicting the charge of the Confederate infantry led by General George Pickett. A step on guide will board our bus and take us on a moving tour of the battlefield grounds as we learn about the war and the immense battle fought on July 1-3, 1863. After some time to freshen up at the hotel, we have an included dinner at The Farnsworth House. The original house, built in 1810, sheltered Confederate sharpshooters during the three day Battle of Gettysburg conflict. More than 100 bullet holes still pick the walls.
