South of Riviera Cancun, Riviera Maya is home to many of Mexico's best all inclusive resorts. Stretching 100 miles, from just south of Puerto Morelos to the ancient Mayan ruins of Tulum, the area offers endless white sand beaches, lush jungles and ancient Mayan cities including Chichen Itza, Tulum and Coba. The average temperature is 80 degrees with more than 240 days of sunshine and rain is rare. The Mesoamerican Barrier Reef is just offshore. Be sure to visit Xel-Ha, the world's largest natural aquarium and Xcaret, where you'll see fascinating indigenous wildlife and snorkel in the underground rivers. Or take a day excursion and visit the Mayan Ruins of Tulum or Chichen Itza. There are many activities and optional excursions available while you relax and take in the sunshine while refreshing your spirit.

On February 20, 2017, we board our morning non-stop flight from Detroit to Cancun, arriving in the early afternoon. A Bianco Tours Tour Director will be with us the entire trip. An air conditioned luxury motor coach will meet us at the airport and transport us to the Now Sapphire Resort for the next 6 nights. An Apple Vacations representative will be on the coach when we depart the airport and will tell us all about the optional excursions available for a fee. The representative will have daily office hours at the resort to assist with booking excursions and will be available to answer any questions. We will spend 7 days and 6 nights in this amazing paradise before returning home on February 26 on our non-stop afternoon flight arriving home in time for dinner.
